shirt it is to be worn with. This model settles that point, having suspender pieces of the skirt material, which are braided in the same design as that on the bottom of the skirt. The points of these straps, which drop below the waist line, are all to permit of a unique sash arrangement, lending considerable distinction to the frock. Of soft satin in a contrasting shade of the dress, the sash is drawn straight across the front and pulled through the slits to drop low in the back with tasseled ends.

The skirt could be of any light weight material, such as cashmere or French serge, or of a medium weight silk, such as poplin or chambray. It is very simple, being gathered across the back and held with a strap, while self-color braiding in a deep band effect trims the bottom.

The little blouse of net or chiffon cloth is made to gather in the front of the neck, being finished all around with a ruffle held with a velvet ribbon the color of the sash. The three-quarter length sleeves are opened a ways up the back, where a dainty ruffle and cording finishes it.

This frock would be most effective made of French blue more with a black satin sash, while the little velvet at the neck could be of red. For a miss, a very youthful combination of colors would be a shirt portion of gray with a Roman striped sash and a cream lace blouse. If desired, the blouse could be of gray chiffon cloth with net frills.

The economical value of this design is quite evident, for what last season's frock could not be made to look up to date with a sash arrangement such as this to cover any defects of the skirt, and a pretty, simple blouse of net to replace the lighter fitting waist of last year.

This design is also suitable for cotton sponges to compose the skirt and suspenders, and a fine batiste blouse, to be worn with it, while a black satin sash would complete an ideal summer frock.

R. F. LITTLE OWES $586,507.

Robert Foraythe Little, a lawyer of No. 31 Nassau street, against whom a petition in bankruptcy was filed on Feb. 15 and whose troubles were attributed to losses on stocks on account of the collapse of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron pool in January, 1910, filed schedules yesterday. They show liabilities of $586,507 and nominal assets $107,164, consisting of cash in the receiver's hands, $11,548; cash in bank, $4; claim against Lathrop Machine & Co., $27,415; claim against T. A. McIntyre, $1,500 and a claim against another firm, $8,200.

TUBERCULOSIS Is Detected While in the Curable Stage

Before undertaking any cure or treatment find out your true condition, the exact location and stage of your disease. If you fear that there has been failure to correctly diagnose or understand your case, call on Dr. Anderson, New York's leading specialist in Tubercular and Lung Diseases, and the inventor of the Anderson X-Ray, which has revolutionized the former methods of diagnosing internal diseases.

He is an expert in diagnosis and can detect the very earliest signs of lung trouble while the disease is yet in its curable stage. The workings of the inner organs of the body are distinctly revealed.

Do not wait until a Spring breakdown overtakes you, and do not delay or wait for experiments with new treatments to be tried out. Anything that is proven to be reliable and able to do all that it claims to do will be gladly and promptly used by all Specialists.

It costs you nothing to find out for yourself, because consultation and examination are given without charge at the office of Dr. Anderson, Specialist, 80 West 124 st. (between 5th and 6th avenues), New York.

Hours—Daily, 10 to 4; Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings till 8 o'clock; Sunday, 11 to 1 o'clock. Book on Tuberculosis sent to any address.

This pretty design, holding the idea of the separate blouse whose indisputable popularity has taken every one by surprise, is quite a delightful substitute for the one-piece silk dress. This model will also prove a real satisfaction to the woman who insists that she never feels really "dressed" in a separate blouse unless there is some connection either in color or material with the
